

workshop,

Transition for Life the public

Free open to

Kearney Public Library – 2020 1st Avenue - Kearney, NE

Thursday – April 22, 2010 7:00 – 9:00 p.m.

As children with disabilities get older and prepare to transition from high school, parents face a new set of challenges.

What will my son do after high school?

Will my daughter find a job or go to college?

Where will my child live?

Is there help for us after high school?

These questions and more will be addressed in this important workshop.

Registration is required at 800-284-8520

A free educational opportunity for parents of students receiving special education services and interested others in the community presented by PTI Nebraska a non-profit organization whose goal is to provide information, resources, and support to families who have a child with a disability or special health care need.

~ PTI Nebraska ~

Training, information and support to families who have a child with a disability or special health care need

Informed Parents ~ Improved Outcomes